A New Beginning for A New Season

"To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven." - Ecclesiastes 3:1 (KJV)

The changing of the seasons is a reminder that life will have transitions. Like the leaves that fall in autumn, to make room for new growth, God will sometimes allow things to change in our lives to prepare us for something greater. Don't allow the challenges of the past prevent you from you looking forward in your present. Every season has a purpose. There is a blessing with every lesson.

One thing that we can always rely on is that though the seasons change, God's love and faithfulness to us remains the same. Keep trusting, keep believing, and keep moving forward. The same God who brought you through your last season will guide you through your next one.

- Dr. P.G. Matthews
